

Master Trainer: Cherubina Nadeem

My name is Cherubina Nadeem, and I am the Headmistress of the High Section (Boys) at La Salle High School & College, Faisalabad. With over 28 years of experience in education, I am also a Master Trainer with NCEC Pakistan, where I train teachers for their professional and personal growth. I have dedicated my career to fostering academic excellence and holistic student development.

I hold a Postgraduate Certificate and a degree in Educational Leadership from Notre Dame, Karachi, along with a TDC (Teachers Development Course) from Portal Consultants (under NCEC Pakistan), a B.Ed from Punjab University, Lahore, and CT Training from St. Patrick's College, Karachi.

Throughout my journey, I have had the privilege of working in renowned institutions, including 17 years at Sacred Heart Cathedral High School, Lahore, and over 5 years at Sacred Heart Convent School, Faisalabad. These experiences have helped me develop strong leadership skills, with a focus on curriculum design, faculty mentorship, and enhancing student welfare programs.

I am committed to creating an inclusive and enriching educational environment that blends modern teaching techniques with traditional values. Under my leadership, we have made significant strides in improving curriculum delivery, faculty development, and student achievement.

Key Skills and Expertise:

- Educational Leadership
- Curriculum Development & Implementation
- Faculty Training & Mentorship
